I.A.M.R. Report

Experiential learning is a singularly powerful approach to teaching and learning that is based on the fact that people learn best through experience. In this extensively updated book, the author offers the most complete and up-to-date statement of the theory of experiential learning and its modern applications in education, work, and adult development.

Annual Departmental Report by the Commissioner of Labour for the Financial Year

This established textbook sets out the principles of limit state design and of its application to reinforced and prestressed concrete members and structures. It will appeal both to students and design engineers. The fourth edition incorporates information on the recently introduced British Standard Code of practice for water retaining structures BS8007. The authors have also taken the opportunity of making minor revisions, generally based on the recommendations of BS8110.
